Ritter Communications Now Airing WeatherNation

CENTENNIAL, Colo. (May 4, 2015) – WeatherNation TV, a leading multi-format, local, regional and national television weather news service, is now available to Ritter Communications customers on three channels covering Arkansas and parts of Missouri and Tennessee.

The agreement makes WeatherNation® available to more than 16,000 basic and expanded basic subscribers, on Ch. 8 in northeast Arkansas/southeast Missouri; on Ch. 4 in western Tennessee; and on Ch. 31 in the Tri-County area of northwest and north central Arkansas.

“We’re pleased to begin offering WeatherNation to Ritter customers, where weather conditions can change in an instant and residents are wise to keep themselves fully informed,” said Michael Norton, president of WeatherNation.

WeatherNation is dedicated to all weather news, all the time, 24 hours a day and seven days a week, with certified meteorologists to present and interpret the latest information. WeatherNation’s data is available on an interactive basis via mobile devices and tablets, and on Internet streaming devices such as Roku and smart TVs.
